Conscious Kids sprouted from a conversation about creating a small and unique community to genuinely support and foster all types of children and teachers. With Conscious Kids our approach is applying Applied Behavior Analysis (ABA), an evidence-based, systematic behavioral application. With this foundation, it can be implemented to many aspects of a child's life, by supporting their behavioral, social, emotional, play and everyday living skills. By fostering these skills, we believe it will cultivate each child's independence and nourish meaning into their life. Our method is derived from treating each individual child as a whole and teaching them how to learn. To organically, provide a foundation which brings an awareness of each child's wellness

Founded in 2004, GHH fills gaps in basic needs by providing wrap-around shelter services to Orange County's most vulnerable, underserved and socio-economically disadvantaged women and men. Our welcoming homes nurture hope, our case managers promote growth, our counseling partners facilitate healing, and our housing navigators guide our participants toward stability. Our goal is for our participants to graduate to permanent housing as stronger, more confident, and autonomous individuals through these holistic resources. In our work, we value love and compassion, respect and acceptance, and honesty and integrity. Every day we work toward the realization of our vision: a thriving, supportive community full of caring and productive individuals where everyone has a safe place to call home. For more information on GHH, please visit our website at www.grandmashouseofhope.org. MIP is a state-funded program aimed at providing paid internships with mentors in key service areas. Grandma's House of Hope (GHH) has several goals for interns during placement including gaining experience, specific knowledge, and transferable skills while working with underserved populations, specifically those with mental health disabilities and substance use disorder, providing leadership development by training interns to co-lead onsite workshops, house meetings and case management sessions and participate in resource fairs.

Site Description
The Sports Haven Project is dedicated to creating safe, supportive environments where students can engage in play, learning, and personal growth. Through sports and structured programs, we promote emotional intelligence, character development, self-reliance, and Social and Emotional Learning (SEL), empowering students to thrive both on and off the field. Sports Haven Project's in-school and after-school programs are designed to help students develop essential life skills such as leadership, teamwork, communication, and decision-making, using soccer and other sports as a platform.

Organization Name: UCI Counseling Center - Peer Assistant Coordinators
Category: College Student Services, Clinical/Counseling
Field Study Site # 210, 210.1 (if applicable)	Opportunities available: Internship
Site Description
As a major component of the Counseling Center's consultation and outreach offerings, the Peer Educator Program provides psychoeducational learning experiences for the UC Irvine student community. Peer Educators are committed to teaching skills that will help students to reduce the potential for distressful life experience (primary prevention) and to resolve stressful situations more quickly should they arise. Peer Educators provide consultation services to various student groups; develop and deliver workshops/training sessions covering a variety of mental health topics, market the services of the Center to the campus community; assist professional staff with outreach programming; assess student need regarding mental health issues; and provide stress management relaxation training to individual students. Peer Educators also complete a special project which contributes to the effectiveness of the Peer Educator Program and the Counseling Center. Peers receive group supervision from the program instructor/coordinator and Associate Coordinators on a weekly basis and individual consultation as needed.

Field Study Site # 418 (if applicable)	Opportunities available: Internship
Site Description
Water UCI is an interdisciplinary center in the School of Social Ecology serving as a coordinating vehicle to facilitate seamless collaboration across schools, departments, and existing research centers around questions of fundamental and applied water science, technology, management, and policy. While our scholarly interests embrace global as well as national aspects of these issues, we will take as our point of departure the unique expertise afforded at UCI in those areas of water research that have a distinctively California focus, and for which we have unique strengths, comparative advantages, strong experience, and great proficiency. These issues include urban and agricultural water management, competition for increasingly scarce and over-taxed water supplies by diverse users, and the food-water-energy nexus – among others.
